

The Air1 radio network in addition to providing music I enjoy, it provides positive music. I feel confident that I can listen to Air1 around my little brothers and sister (preschool and first grade), and it will not negatively effect them. Air1 is more than just a Christian station. The station offer helpful advice and everyone at the station truely cares for their listeners. I have never seen a station try so hard to make their listeners happy. I don't know what I will listen to if I cant have Air1.
